Jeannine Bogart

EPIC INTERIORS
CO-FOUNDER & OWNER

“My career in interior design happened organically, through a love for creativity,” Jeannine Bogart says. Before founding her Evanston-based interior design firm with partner Andrea Clymore, she worked in visual merchandising for a luxe home furnishings company. “There I was able to use my creativity endlessly, from redesigning floor sets to curating clients’ homes. It gave me a crash course in space planning and design, and taught me to be a very active listener.” She also managed a visual team, and became a stickler for organization. “The experience crossed over seamlessly when we started our own business and began to manage large-scale projects.”

Now, she and Clymore are expanding Epic Interiors with the launch of a brand-new division, Epic.moves. “We provide a concierge move management service that will prepare a home for sale, stage, pack, move, unpack and set you up in your new home or business for a luxury turnkey experience,” Bogart says. “Our goal is to create a truly stress-free move that is on a whole other level!”

Bogart will bring her signature aesthetic and keen eye for design to the new service—and she’s constantly finding new inspirations. “I am inspired and motivated by visualizing what a space could be, and then bringing it to life,” she says. “There is nothing better than that!” But, rest assured: “While the creative parts are the most fun,” Bogart says, “we are equally committed to providing our clients a stress-free, timely and on-budget experience.”
